fellowresidents

Built by a neighbor for our community.

A verified place for neighbors to connect, with a public page for each building. Free for residents.

- Take a weekly poll and see your building's average score.
- Share updates, questions and ideas, and upvote what matters.
- Message neighbors and form groups; those conversations stay private.
- Leave a public review as a Verified Current Resident.

What's public

Each building's public page shows weekly scores, selected tracked post summaries and public reviews. You choose the wording of your public summary or review. Public author labels do not show your name or handle, but text and attachments are not automatically scrubbed.

What stays private

Messages and groups stay private to eligible participants. Post details and comments require community access. Topics tracked from chat stay off public reports. Individual poll answers are not shown to neighbors or management; scores are per building.

Your privacy choices

Go by a first name or a handle you choose. Use a private handle to keep your account name out of conversations, even with verified neighbors. Residence verification is separate: your voucher or an administrator can see the details needed to verify you.

How management fits in Management may subscribe, respond and share progress. Resident Post authors appear as Verified Resident. Management cannot edit or remove your post or mark your tracked topic resolved; only its poster can do that. Management can manage its own updates and replies. Platform moderation still applies.

This is public. Don't include names or unit numbers in a public summary, review or attachment.

Join at fellowresidents.com.

Use your building's short join code or a neighbor's invitation. Residence verification is required for community access. Questions or ideas? Feedback is available without signing in. Include your email address for replies.